Area Student Designs 'Car of the Future' for the Washington Auto Show Drawing Contest

WASHINGTON, D. C. – What will the cars of the future look like? The Washington Post and the Washington Area New Automobile Dealers Association (WANADA) invited inventive children, ages 6-12, to design and draw their idea of "the car of the future" in The Washington Auto Show drawing contest.

The winning artist, Evan Gaskin, 11, received a $500 savings bond and $500 worth of art supplies for Woodstream Christian Academy. Selected entries will be on display at The Washington Post booth at The Washington Auto Show (Jan. 24 – 29). The photo will be featured on the cover of the official Washington Auto Show program, published by The Washington Post.

The 2006 Washington Auto Show: "The State of The Auto" will bring more than 700 new cars, trucks, mini-vans and sport utility vehicles from over 37 domestic and import automakers to the Washington Convention Center from Jan. 24 – 29, 2006. For auto show operating hours, ticket information and "e-tickets," visit the Washington Auto Show online at www.washingtonautoshow.com or contact WANADA at 1-866-WASH-AUTO or 202.237.7200.

Now entering its 89th year of existence, WANADA represents dealerships throughout the Washington, D.C., Maryland and Virginia area.
